15,000 Hear Eisenhower In Pittsburgh

Charges Opponent With Political Irresponsibility

PITTSBURGH — UP — President Eisenhower charged Adlai E. Stevenson last night with political irresponsibility in implying the Republican administration cares nothing for the "little fellow."

In a major speech to an enthusiastic crowd of 15,000 at Hunt Armory, Mr. Eisenhower declared the Democratic orators have "concealed or twisted" the facts.

"Those political orators promise bigger government spending on every front—taxes for every citizen—all wrapped up in the bright package of a balanced budget," the President said at a GOP rally which climaxed a late afternoon and evening of orations in the traditionally Democratic steel center.

A capacity crowd of 11,000 jammed into the armory and another 4,000 packed streets and alleys outside to hear Mr. Eisenhower's 25-minute nationwide radio-television talk over an NBC hook-up.

Thousands On Hand

Mr. Eisenhower arrived at Pittsburgh in the presidential plane, the Columbine, at 4 p.m. (EDT). Thousands lined the highway as he motored from the airport to the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, where another 5,000 were massed in a square outside. He returned to Washington immediately after the speech.

In his speech, Mr. Eisenhower departed from his prepared text when he accused Democratic orators of a "whole series of curious statements falsely implying" that his administration cares nothing for "the many they rather patronizingly call the little fellow."

"By the way," he said, "who has the right to call any American 'the little fellow'? Doesn't the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Harry Takes Campaign To W. Virginia

Former Chief Executive Talks To Monessen Demos

PITTSBURGH — UP — Former President Truman, who skirted Eisenhower supporters during a two-day stay here, took his "give 'em hell" campaign to West Virginia today.

Mr. Truman left the Greater Pittsburgh Airport this morning aboard the private plane of West Virginia Gov. William C. Marland. He is scheduled to speak today at Morgantown and this evening at Moundsville, W. Va.

The former president spoke last night to a Democratic rally at a night club near Monessen, Pa., about 25 miles from where President Eisenhower made his nationwide radio-television address at Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory.

Says Ike "Running Scared" Mr. Truman, who did not hear the President's address, said Mr. Eisenhower is "running scared for the Republicans."

"On the basis of what I have seen and heard in all the states I've been in, as of now we have them licked," he told the rally. "We got the President out on the roads," he said. "When you get them yelling and when the defensive, you have them licked."

Dons Rose-Tinted Glasses Mr. Truman, as at every stop on his campaign tour of Western Pennsylvania, urged his listeners to vote for Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson and for Democratic senatorial and congressional candidates.

Do you want to buy a pair of brown Army oxfords for a penny, a swivel back office chair for 75 cents or how about a typewriter for $1.50 or a $750 mimeograph machine for just $2.50?

We are not dreaming. There is a huge warehouse full of these and thousands of other such bargains in Harrisburg, part of the Army surplus items put up for sale.

But don't worry, you, as a private citizen, won't be able to buy them. At present they are only to be sold to schools and institutions.

3-M Maps United Fund Drive Plans

Minnesota Mining Executives, Union Officials Convene

Top executives and union officials of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company plant in Bristol township last night made plans for a concerted United Fund campaign drive among the 500 plant employees, to seek 100 per cent participation.

The enthusiastic group met at the Pennsylvan Inn, as guests of Ted Holmstrom, public relations man assigned here from the Three-M firm's home office in St. Paul, Minn., to assist in getting the campaign started.

Monday was set as kickoff for the solicitation drive, in which foremen and union representatives will individually ask each worker to support the Fund, which throughout Bucks County needs $603,000 next year for the minimum requirements of its 17 health, welfare and public service agencies.

With one dollar a month the suggested contribution, through payroll deductions, 100 per cent participation would provide the United Fund with $600,000. In addition, Plant Manager William T. Aitken announced that the company this year is increasing its corporate gift.

Expresses Enthusiasm With Hobart Stecher, president of Local 149, CIO Glassworkers Union and the other union and management officials, Mr. Aitken expressed enthusiasm for the solicitation drive and confidence that it will be a success.

Management Club Hears Ex-All-American Speak

Harry Stuhldreher, an All-American quarterback and a member of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen, was guest speaker at the Bucks County Industrial Management Club dinner last night at the Edgely Fire House.

Mr. Stuhldreher, an assistant to the president of U. S. Steel, gave an enlightening talk entitled "It Takes People."

Introduced by Joseph Wasneski, vice president of the club, the Notre Dame alumnus lauded the people of Bucks County.

He said, "This is like one large family here and we of U. S. Steel have tried to become a part of the family. We now feel we are a part of this fine community."

Drawing an analogy to his football experience, Stuhldreher said, "We all play a big part in making this the greatest country in the world. In football, as in life, it is team play that wins the game. We all know that everyone is susceptible to a pat on the back. Show respect to your fellow man by showing that the team did the job. We don't care who made the touchdown as long as we have done the job."

Talks of Coaches

The Notre Dame All-American also told of some of the coaches of yesteryear and how they taught the meaning of teamwork in building great football teams. "Sports," he said, "teach our children to respect their fellow players and teach them how to get along with people. This is a big asset in making a success of life."

In closing the former coach told the assembled group, "you busy people are to be complimented on giving of yourselves to help one another."

The Rev. Edward Yeomans, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian Church and Club Chaplain, gave the invocation.

Charles Rittler, president of the organization, welcomed the representatives of Bristol Rotary Club, Bensalem Rotary Club, Bristol Lions Club, Bristol Exchange Club, Newtown Exchange Club, Lower Bucks Optimist Club, Bucks County Industrial Management Club.

Wild Ride Frightens Township Residents

Residents of Spencer drive, Croydon Acres, got a scare last evening when a speeding car crashed into a telephone pole and skidded wildly across the street, narrowly missing a parked car.

An unidentified resident of the street chased the car and managed to get the license number, which he gave to Bristol township police.

Question Juvenile Police traced the ownership of the car and questioned a 16-year-old boy they believe was driving the vehicle. It developed the youth had only a learner's license.

However, police made no arrest. Chief John R. Stewart reported no officers had seen the youth drive the car and said the resident who gave them the license number couldn't identify the driver.

No Damage

Chief Stewart reported there was no damage to the telephone pole and only $1 damage to the car.

However, residents report the right side of the car was smashed. One picked up a chrome strip which was knocked from the side of the car and pieces of a smashed headlight.

The residents also pointed out that several safety signs, such as "Children at Play" and "Slow," were recently installed on the drive.

L'town Boy Is Found

A ten-year-old will-o-the-wisp wanderer who failed to return home Monday night was found yesterday afternoon.

Harry Ryan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ryan, 31 Ravine lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, said he spent Monday night "just wandering around."

He was located at 5 p.m. yesterday when he went to the home of a boyfriend, and the boy's parents notified Mr. Ryan.

Upon questioning last night, Harry explained that he walked as far as the Dairy Delight store, on Route 1, near the Langhorne Speedway, but his parents could not determine other places he had visited or get a conclusive reason why he didn't return home.

A fourth grader at St. Michael's School, Harry resumed classes this morning.

Under the pretext of joining the Cub Scouts, Harry left home at 7 o'clock Monday. When he failed to return by 1 a.m. yesterday morning, the boy's father notified the Bristol Township Police, who spread a police dragnet for the boy's return.

Friends of the lad reported seeing Harry at various places yesterday afternoon, but he continued to elude hunters until he visited the home of a boyfriend.

Auxiliary Hits Darcy Pardon

Calling the commutation of the death sentence in the Darcy case, "a gross miscarriage of justice," the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bucks County Fraternal Order of Police bitterly attacked the decision in a blistering letter to Gov. Leader today.

The letter of the women's organization implied that pressures and influence might have replaced justice in this case.

The women feel that, "Never in the history of Bucks County and Pennsylvania has there been such a gross miscarriage of justice."

"It is difficult to see the reason behind this move. Thousands of dollars were spent to prove these men were guilty without a doubt. How can you or the pardon board justify this uncalled for decision?"

Summing up their bitter feeling, the women ask the governor, "Are we beginning an era in which influence and wealth replace justice?"

"Are the law enforcing agencies to struggle for principles of justice only to have their work cancelled by one stroke of the governor's pen?"

Replies from Levittown residents are running heavy on the fluoridation survey being conducted by Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority, according to Charles Lucisano, chairman of the group.

He said that a "good majority" of residents are returning the questionnaire on the fluoridation of water with their bills. But he said the answers have not yet been tabulated.

He explained that he has no idea whether the answers to survey favor the fluoridation or not. "We don't want to influence the opinion of any residents who have not voted yet on this issue," Lucisano said. He explained that the survey is not half through yet.

He estimated that results of the survey would not be known until sometime near the first of the year. The authority started mailing out questionnaires with the latest quarterly water bill, on Sept. 1. Because of the cycle billing method, used by the authority, it will take three months before all the questionnaires are mailed out, Lucisano said.

This would take the program up to the end of November. Lucisano said an extra month would have to be allowed to give the residents a chance to return the survey.

14,000 Questionnaires

He added that the authority, which supplies Levittown homes with water and sewage service, will mail out a total of 14,000 questionnaires.

The authority members initiated the move to have the survey taken last summer after considerable research. If the residents are in favor of the move, officials estimate it would take only a short time to start putting fluorides in the water.

Brink's Gang Gets Life

BOSTON — UP — Eight Brink's bandits began serving life sentences today and locked up with them was the secret of what happened to more than a million dollars.

The life terms were imposed yesterday by Superior Judge Felix Forte after the state recommended the maximum penalty for the $1,218,211 robbery at Brink's Inc. on Jan. 17, 1950.

The stiff sentences ended a long chapter in crime for the Halloween-masked gang convicted early Saturday by a Suffolk County jury. Sentenced were Joseph F. McGinnis, 33, gang mastermind; Adolph (Jazz) Maffie, 45; Anthony Pino, 49; Vincent J. Costa, 42; Michael V. Geagan, 48; Henry Baker, 50; Thomas F. Richardson, 49; and James I. Faherty, 45; all of greater Boston.

Brennan Vote Drive In Falls Head Named

Paul Terrels, 69 Vicar lane, Levittown, today announced that he is serving as campaign manager in Falls Township for State Representative A. Patrick Brennan (D2, Bucks) in Brennan's bid for re-election.

Terrels, who is registration chairman for the Falls Township Democratic club, issued a statement praising the social legislation Brennan has sponsored during his present term in Harrisburg.

"For the first time in its history," Terrels said, "Pennsylvania has a Fair Employment Practices law and the bill which enacted this law was co-sponsored by Brennan."

"In addition," Terrels said, "Brennan introduced a bill setting up a committee to consider the employment problems of older people in the state, people who so often find themselves unemployable simply because of their age."

"Brennan has shown us during the past two years that he has the welfare of the people of this district at heart," Terrels said. "I am happy to be associated with his campaign and I will do my best to insure his re-election."

"I wonder just what kind of political children they think the American people are. I also wonder what kind of man they think I am."

Hits Opposition Proposals

Mr. Eisenhower said Stevenson and his Democratic running mate, Estes Kefauver, are making a "record of clattering campaign oratory" and cited as examples the issues of "big business" versus "small business;" the draft, H-bomb tests, national defense and peace.

"They say your government is indifferent to labor," he said. "They say your government is negligent in social security—indifferent to the unemployed."

"This amounts to saying that your government has no interest in the people of America. This amounts to the charge that your government has betrayed your trust. Such talk is political irresponsibility at its worst."

Replying to Stevenson's statement that the draft might be halted in the foreseeable future and that the United States should take the lead in halting H-bomb tests, the President said he was speaking "with the greatest seriousness."

"I, as your President and commander in chief of the armed forces, cannot and will not make proposals contrary to national interest—nor offer you attractive prospects unjustified by world realities," Mr. Eisenhower said. "I will not promise that winning a peace based on justice will be cheap and easy."

275th Committes Push Event Plans

With three days remaining before the start of Bristol's 275th Anniversary celebration, committee members are working full-speed on the remaining steps to assure a memorable week of festive activities. Enthusiasm is continuing to mount for the celebration, both from Bristolians who will take part in the events and from outsiders who will come to the borough.

For the giant auction in the Kaiser Canbera plant, one of two opening day events set for Saturday, Boy Scouts have posted signs throughout the area. The placards, also direct public attention to the unprecedented Open House visit to ten historic Bristol mansions, scheduled for the same day.

The auction, under the direction of Stephen P. Midouhas, will start at 10 a.m., with an antique auction at 5 p.m., under the direction of Dr. Walter Fortnum. The houses will be open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m.

The celebration will turn to a religious key Sunday, when sermons at local worship services will feature the history of Bristol churches. In a community service in the Warren Snyder elementary school auditorium at 8 p.m. the church histories will be depicted in pageant form.

Colonial Costumes

Bristol Borough Council will don Colonial costumes, including wigs, for a special session Monday night. The councilmen also will dress colonial style for the two-mile-long parade to wind up the celebration Saturday.

Also Monday night, pupils of the Snyder school will present a pageant. The children will continue their celebration with other activities Tuesday, and present dances Wednesday to Saturday at the Mill Street Fair.

A highlight of the celebration will occur Thursday, with a Colonial Ball and Banquet in the Snyder school auditorium, with Gov. George M. Leader coming as guest speaker.

Tech School Head To Talk

"Technical Education for Youth and Adults of Lower Bucks County," will be the topic discussed by George M. Schaffer, principal of the Bucks County Technical school tomorrow evening at Delhaas High School.

Mr. Schaffer will speak at the first regular meeting of the 1956-57 season of the Delhaas High School Parent-Teacher association, which will convene at 8 p.m.

A graduate of Bethlehem (Pa.) High School, Mr. Schaffer received his Bachelor of Science Degree and Master of Education Degree at Pennsylvania State University and served as lecturer on the Teacher Education Staff at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Schaffer's trade experience was gained with such firms as Bethlehem Steel Company, Bethlehem, and Baldwin Locomotive Works, Eddystone, as well as with private electrical contractors.

An opportunity for audience participation will be provided following Mr. Schaffer's talk, which will include results of preliminary studies, surveys, costs, etc., and future operation of the Bucks County Technical School.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria at the close of the meeting. Mrs. E. Bley, Edgely, is chairman of the refreshments committee.

President Loses Topcoat

PITTSBURGH—UP — President Eisenhower, who threw his hat into the political ring again early this year, added his topcoat Tuesday night.

In his haste to get to Greater Pittsburgh Airport after delivering a nationally televised and broadcast campaign address, Mr. Eisenhower left his tan topcoat behind at Hunt Armory.

The oversight was discovered by local police who contacted secret service agents at the airport. The topcoat was bundled into a squad car which, with siren wailing, set off at high speed for the air terminal 20 miles distant.

But the President's plane had departed, so the coat was shipped to Washington aboard another liner.

Bensalem Athletic Field Job To Start

"Construction on the new athletic field at Bensalem High school should start not later than three weeks from now," Robert K. Shafer, superintendent of Bensalem school said today.

Contracts for the construction of the field were awarded last night. Saba Construction company, Langhorne, was awarded the contract for earth moving and general preparation for the field. The price was $45,182.00.

Two Philadelphia contractors were awarded the other two contracts involved.

Anchor Post company will build the fences around the field for $7,162.00. The stands will be constructed by Lucker Manufacturing company for a price of $8,835.00.

If construction begins in three weeks, it should take about three months to complete the job, Mr. Shafer said.

Damage Is Slight In Kitchen Fire

Burning grease splashed on a curtain in the home of Winston W. Whiteside, 57 Miller drive, Davisville, causing a kitchen fire yesterday.

Fifteen men and two engines of the Southampton Volunteer Fire Company answered the call, and extinguished the blaze in about 15 minutes.

Little damage was done, according to Donald Leedom, of the Southampton company.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

The Levittown teacher who assigned her pupils to find where Bucks County got its name has the class members begging for help. Several mothers called us yesterday. The answer: Bucks is short for Buckinghamshire, the Penn homestead in England.

For the newcomer, Levitt and Sons, Inc., is the nation's number one home building organization. They began by building 35 houses a year during the early days of the depression. During the GI housing demand in 1946-47 they increased production to a rate of 35 houses a day.

A reminder to all Levittown families. The Levittown Civic association's membership drive is now underway. The dues are $1 per year, per family. About 1000 new membership applications were mailed out and thus far only 250 have been returned. When the first Levittown homes were occupied, LCA members made personal calls to all new families. However, now it is impossible to do that due to the rapid influx of people, so all the information about the organization is included in the letter with membership applications.

He who laughs last, laughs best. The other day in a quip about Mrs. Mimi Brown, it was noted that her address in the Federated Women's Club of Levittown Directory was listed as "Silver Birch" lane instead of Silver Birch lane. But alas, in the article her name was spelled "Mimmie" instead of Mimi.

Council Informed On Suit Deadline

Philip E. Jones, Morrisville attorney, addressed a letter to the Borough Council last night, informing them of a six months notice of a possible suit pending regarding Henry Dameron, who was killed in a sewer accident in the Borough May 17, 1956.

Borough Solicitor David Clarke said the suit has not started yet, but the suit must, under the statutes of limitations, be started before May 17, 1957.

The accident occurred on East Palmer avenue and East Franklin street.

Bath Street School Lease Negotiated

A month-to-month lease to set up a workshop for the handicapped in the abandoned Bath Street School building was negotiated last night by a special committee of the borough school board.

In co-operation with the Bucks County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, Handicapped Industries will move into the building Dec. 1, after providing $650 worth of repairs at their expense.

Full Schedule of Events Is Planned By Ski Club

A full schedule of activities in preparation for the ski season were outlined at a meeting of the Levittown Ski Club last night. President Jack Berkley presided at the meeting at the home of John Kane, 2 Goodrock road, Goldenridge, Levittown.

Possible sites for the location of the club's ski tow in the Bucks County area were announced. John Kane reported on a meeting of the Eastern Pennsylvania Ski Council, and listed fall and winter events planned for member clubs.

Council Rules Repair Jobs Must Be Done

Morrisville residents, whose sidewalks are in need of repair, will be given 30 days notice to complete the work or the borough will step in and do the work and assess the residents the cost of the work.

That was the ruling of the Morrisville Borough council last night after a motion by James Magee, chairman of the streets and lights committee was seconded and passed to that effect.

Mr. Magee said a survey had been taken and there are about 25 or 30 such situations in the borough, caused by trees pushing up the sidewalks.

Borough Solicitor David Clarke, was asked to amend the sidewalk ordinance to allow a bituminous coal patch to be used in repairing the sidewalks. Mr. Magee said the "coal patch" would be more economical than concrete.

"Coal Patch" Practical

Mr. Magee stipulated that only that part of the sidewalk that is actually in need of repair should be replaced, therefore, he said, making the "coal patch" practical.

The Councilman said that if for any reason a tree is removed from the repaired sidewalk area, the "patch" must be taken up and the concrete replaced.

The borough secretary was asked to contact the Philadelphia Electric company and ask them to make a survey of the borough's street light condition. Mr. Magee said that the survey would be at the cost of the Borough, but he said that there was no way of telling the cost until the survey is completed.

To Sell Scales

In other action, the Ordinance committee, headed by Chairman Edward J. Mannix, passed a resolution to sell the old Fairbanks scales belonging to the borough for their $100 value. The borough secretary was instructed to sell the scales and turn the money over to the borough.

A resolution was rescinded terminating daylight saving time in the borough. It was resolved that Borough clocks would be set back one hour to Eastern Standard Time at 2 a.m., Oct. 28. The resolution rescinded a previous resolution passed April 10.

Councilman Neal Nolan, chairman of the public properties committee, reported that the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission-owned land on Wood street and on Washington street was still not a "desirable spot" for a playground.

Mr. Nolan reported that the commission, at a recent meeting, declined a council request to lease the Washington street parcel because of the close proximity to the Administration building, but that the Commission was still willing to lease the Wood street property to the borough for $1 for one year, to be used for a playground.

The Public Properties chairman said that his committee felt the parcel was not a "desirable spot" for a playground.

John V. Sawyer made a motion in request the commission to lease the Wood street property for $1 for one year with no stipulations as to its use by the Borough, defending his stand by saying that he understands that the land may be sold and the Borough might find "something less desirable than a playground" in the residential section.

The motion was passed 5-3 over Mr. Nolan's protests.

L'town A and P Fire Extinguished

Falls Township Fire Company No. 1 was summoned at 2:30 a.m. today to extinguish a small trash fire in the new A & P Store, Newportville road, Levittown.

Falls Township Police discovered the fire. It broke out in a room constructed of concrete and steel.

Twenty-five men and two pieces of apparatus responded to the call. In other action yesterday, the Falls Company extinguished a small field fire on a Danherst Corp. lot on Queen Anne road, Fairless Hills.

State Aid At Stake

The writ demands the auditors supply an audit to the supervisors by Oct. 31. The supervisors contend that without the audit they will lose state aid.

Mr. Shea said that the auditors were almost prepared to present an audit to the supervisors when they were confronted with the writ.

"This throws a new light on the whole situation. We could probably have presented an audit shortly but it would have been an uncertified one. It may take us as long as another year to present an audit that will be certified."

The auditors contend that the deplorable condition of the records make a certified audit almost impossible at this time.

"We may even have to call in an accountant to do the work," Mr. Shea said.

"We are just as anxious as the supervisors to get the audit and have this done with but under the present conditions, it looks like it may be some time yet before this is done."

"The supervisors know the condition of the records and it seems to us they have made little effort to remedy the situation," he said.

The audit was due legally in March but the auditors were granted an extension to allow the new auditors to familiarize themselves with the records.

Borough Treasurer Named At Meeting

Thomas Groom, 263 Washington street, Morrisville, was appointed last night to the post of Borough Treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Warren E. Long, who resigned to take a position with the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge commission.

Mr. Groom, nominated by Councilman John V. Sawyer, was appointed over Robert C. Beadle, former Borough Treasurer, who was nominated by Councilman Neal Nolan.

Magee Speaks

Speaking in Mr. Groom's behalf, Councilman James Magee said, "We need young blood and new faces here on Council."

Councilman William P. Schriber pointed out that Groom is employed as a sales clerk in Trenton and has never done accounting professionally, and that through his private investigation, found that Groom had handled, "invoices, statements, and their like," only.

Mr. Sawyer then asked the resigning treasurer if he thought that Mr. Groom could do the job.

Mr. Long answered, "I have talked to the man, told him the work involved, showed him examples of the work, and I feel he can do the job."

By 5-3 Vote

Mr. Groom was appointed by a vote of 5-3. His term expires January, 1958. The office calls for a full two-year term.

Council President Nicholas T. Mislán, regrettably accepted Mr. Long's resignation and praised him for past fine performance. The Council agreed that the treasurer had fulfilled his office well.

Court Action Stirs Auditors

"This has come as quite a shock to us."

That was the reaction of Alfred Shea, attorney for the auditors of Bensalem township, on the writ of mandamus filed yesterday demanding the township's audit by Oct. 31.

"The supervisors know the condition of the records as well as we do. This action certainly comes as a surprise to me."

"I haven't had a chance to even study the writ yet so I'm uncertain what action we will take on it."

Mr. Shea explained that there are two possibilities for the auditors concerning the writ. He said that the auditors have the choice of either answering the writ within a specified time, 20 days in this case, or ignoring it.

"If we ignore it," he said, "we just about lose by default. Most likely we will answer it but I can't say for sure. I have to study the writ, talk over the situation with the auditors and then decide our next move."

2 Disagree On Motion

Morrisville Borough Councilman John V. Sawyer and Councilman Neal Nolan hammered away at each other last night when Sawyer made a motion to rescind an ordinance requiring that all new Borough employees names be submitted to the council before they are hired or fired.

Mr. Sawyer's motion was passed and he made a second motion that the chairman of any committee along with the approval of the council president, could hire or fire any employee except those on the Police force, who are civil service appointees.

Mr. Nolan, addressing the Council said, "You'll never get another Democrat in here (on Council) as long as I'm here!" His term expires in three more years.

Addressing Mr. Sawyer, Nolan said, "You're taking everybody out and you'll get slapped right in the nose yourself, some day."

Mr. Nolan argued that the motion would put too much power in the chairman's post, but Council President Nicholas T. Mislán said, "You're supposed to get together with your committee and work things out together."

The motion was passed 5-3 with one abstaining.

Trainer Is Killed, Fiancee Aid Fails

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. — UP — An animal trainer was clawed to death by a 500-pound bear last night while his fiancee and a friend tried to lure the animal away.

Paul Lemery, 28, entered the European bear's cage for a training session. His fiancee, Shirley Rodriguez, 23, said she was getting a muzzle for the bear when she heard Lemery shriek.

Miss Rodriguez and Roland Racine, an employee, dashed into the cage and tried to beat the huge bear away from its victim with a pike pole and a broom.

When force failed, Miss Rodriguez offered the bear, whose name was "Hans," a handful of sugar while Racine ran for help. He returned with Robert Bellefeuille, 28, who had a .35 caliber hunting rifle.

stewards meet for indoctrination as solicitation teams. Visits to United Fund-supported agencies and talks at the plant on the services they render are also planned in advance of the solicitation.

The drive was brought "close to home" when John Spadaccino, labor staff representative and Mr. Stecher pointed out that United Fund agencies, the American Red Cross among them, have rendered many vital services to plant personnel.

Although donors are free to specify the agencies to receive their gifts, including those not affiliated with the United Fund, Mr. Spadaccino and Mr. Aitken, urged that gifts direct to the fund be strongly encouraged.

"The United Fund is your fund," Mr. Spadaccino said. "It is run for Bucks County by representatives of companies and unions. They are responsible to see that your money is used in Bucks County, and used wisely."

"You can put your confidence in a group that represents your contributions in Bucks County," said Mr. Aitken, who serves on the board of directors of the United Fund.

Mr. Holmstrom brought literature and devices of a type used successfully in other plants of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, one of the originators of the united appeal idea.

The company started it in St. Paul eight years ago, he said, after there had been constant charity campaigns in which people were asked to donate almost every week. The campaigns were combined with the slogan, "Give Once for All."

Mr. Holmstrom distributed badges the plant campaign committee will wear with the initials "GoFa" and a picture of a gopher. Attached to each placard is a nickel, representing the five cents a day each employee is asked to give.

Brochures announcing the United Fund drive and its importance are being addressed to each employee and his wife, Mr. Holmstrom said.

Attending the dinner meeting, with Mr. Holmstrom, Mr. Aitken, Mr. Stecher and Mr. Spadaccino were Sherman Davis, plant personnel manager and campaign co-chairman, who introduced the speaker; Jack Parker, union co-chairman for the campaign.

Also, R. J. Space, production superintendent; Donald Siegfried, assistant office manager; G. P. Pochert, superintendent; M. B. Lockert, plant engineer; B. J. Hopkins, foreman; A. D. Bailey, office manager; Chester Pizula, vice president of Local 149 and Samuel Tannenbaum, George Massimini, Sidney Rigby and Earl Fabritius, of the Union wage committee.

Supervisors' Court Action Stirs Auditors

"This has come as quite a shock to us."

That was the reaction of Alfred Shea, attorney for the auditors of Bensalem township, on the writ of mandamus filed yesterday demanding the township's audit by October 31.

"The supervisors know the condition of the records as well as we do. This action certainly comes as a surprise to me."

"If we ignore it," he said, "we just about lose by default. Most likely we will answer it but I can't say for sure. I have to study the writ, talk over the situation with the auditors and then decide our next move."

State Aid at Stake

The writ demands the auditors supply an audit to the supervisors by Oct. 31. The supervisors contend that without the audit they will lose state aid.

Mr. Shea said that the auditors were almost prepared to present an audit to the supervisors when they were confronted with the writ.

"This throws a new light on the whole situation. We could probably have presented an audit shortly but it would have been an uncertified one. It may take us as long as another year to present an audit that will be certified."

The attorney emphasized that the state will only accept a certified audit before they will provide any state funds.

The auditors contend that the deplorable condition of the records make a certified audit almost impossible at this time.

"We may even have to call in an accountant to do the work," Mr. Shea said.

Wonder what an election campaign would be like if everybody stopped accusing everybody else and just let good works be glorified by the record itself?

No millennium in that respect yet, but don't give up. Actually, most of the political hassles these days are tea parties in comparison to what they were a quarter of a century ago, a half century ago.

Girl Scouts Hear Talk By Director

Trevose-Oakford
Senior Troop 235
Acquires Piano

Mary Benner, Girl Scout field director, Doylestown, spoke to Senior Troop 235 of the Trevose-Oakford area recently, advising the group on program building.

Miss Benner, speaking at the home of troop leader, Mrs. Marie Schoenleber, Spruce avenue, Oakford, emphasized that a well-rounded program integrates the meaning and purpose of scouting with the interest and abilities of the scouts.

She urged the girls to relate all their scout activities to a central theme—"to have a goal and strive to attain it."

The scout leader pointed out that in Bucks County and Philadelphia there are unusual natural resources as well as recreational and educational facilities that can be used to full advantage.

Miss Benner recounted successful projects of other senior troops and spoke of numerous opportunities.

National Roundup

"In 1958," she said, "one girl from Region Three will be chosen to attend the Girl Scout Chalet in Switzerland." She added that plans are underway for a national roundup for the near future.

The troop's music committee reported it had acquired a piano for troop use.

A welcome was extended to new member, Kathy Sibel, and visitor, Alma Kirkwood.

Attending the meeting were President Judy Cassidy, Treasurer Martha Averitt, Martina Zimmerman, Betty Zimmerman, Janet Maier, Alice Schoenleber, Sue Thompson, Flossie Mulholland, Billie Kirkwood, Mrs. Schoenleber, Mrs. C. A. Maier, Mrs. Robert Kirkwood and Mrs. Woodrow Thompson.

Joan Maier, secretary of the troop, was absent due to illness.

Brink's Gang Gets Life

BOSTON—UP—Eight Brink's bandits began serving life sentences today and locked up with them was the secret of what happened to more than a million dollars.

The life terms were imposed yesterday by Superior Judge Felix Forte after the state recommended the maximum penalty for the $1,218,211 robbery at Brink's Inc. on Jan. 17, 1956.

The stiff sentences ended a long chapter in crime for the Halloween-masked gang convicted early Saturday by a Suffolk County jury.

Sentenced were Joseph F. McGinnis, 53, gang mastermind; Adolph (Jazz) Maffie, 45; Anthony Pino, 49; Vincent J. Costa, 42; Michael V. Geagan, 48; Henry Baker, 50; Thomas F. Richardson, 49; and James I. Faherty, 45; all of greater Boston.

Only $68,000 has been recovered by investigators. The FBI found the money rotting in a beer cooler during a surprise raid last June on a Boston contracting office.

Democrats Hold Lead In Alaska

Kefauver Raps
Ike's Official
Family In Speech

Alaska's "weathervane" election tilted slightly towards the Democrats today.

Voters in the vast territory balloted yesterday for two unofficial U.S. senators and one representative who under an Alaska-Tennessee plan would go to Washington to lobby for statehood.

Unofficial returns from 94 of the territory's 271 precincts gave the Democrats a slight lead in all three races. For almost four decades, the Alaska general vote has forecast accurately whether a Republican or Democrat would go to the White House.

President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson traded personal punches in major political addresses last night.

The President, who took his campaign to Pittsburgh, charged Stevenson with political irresponsibility in implying the Republican administration cares nothing for the "little fellow."

Stevenson attacked the President's pet project—atoms for peace—in Seattle.

Sen. Estes Kefauver struck at the President's official family in a speech prepared for delivery in Syracuse, N.Y., today. He charged that "advisers" accepted a $5,000 check from the same Texas oil man whose rejected $2,500 campaign gift to Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) later sparked the Senate lobbying investigation.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon barnstormed four cities of his native California today on the second day of a 10,000-mile flying campaign tour. He said in a speech prepared for delivery in Oakland that small business will fare better under four more years.

L. Southampton School Holds Tea

The second tea of the season got underway at the Lower Southampton Elementary School this afternoon.

The event is for mothers and teachers of second grade pupils, and is sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association.

First of such teas was held October 3 and met with great success, according to PTA leaders.

Shoes Selling For Cent a Pair

Twp. CD To Buy Surplus Articles

Do you want to buy a pair of brown Army oxfords for a penny, a swivel back office chair for 75 cents or how about a typewriter for $1.50 or a $750 mimeograph machine for just $2.50?

We are not dreaming. There is a huge warehouse full of these and thousands of other such bargains in Harrisburg, part of the Army surplus items put up for sale.

But don't worry, you, as a private citizen, won't be able to buy them. At present they are only to be sold to schools and institutions.

But a proposed change in plans by the Federal Government may save you, as a local taxpayer, considerable money.

The government is now considering allowing Civil Defense programs to purchase supplies and equipment from the Army surplus program.

One of the first in line to take advantage of the possible change in plans is Bristol Township. Yesterday Township Commissioners Harold Lefcourt, chairman of the Safety Committee, and Fred K. Hibbs, CD coordinator, went to Harrisburg with George McCool, township road supervisor, to look over the items.

Used Material

The purpose of the trip, Lefcourt said, was to draw up a list of supplies and equipment which the township CD program could use. He pointed out most of the material on sale is used.

He said, he understood the Government would open its surplus warehouses to the CD program sometime next month.

"When they do, we want to be sure we are ready to take advantage of the offer and purchase all the material we need for our program," Lefcourt said. The prices, he said, are "ridiculously low."

Topping the township's list are office furniture and equipment, such as chairs, desks and filing cabinets; radio communications material and possibly some road building equipment.

"With these low prices it might be possible to provide uniforms for our CD personnel," Lefcourt said.

Stuhldreher Hails Teamwork In Talk To Management Club

Harry Stuhldreher, an All-American quarterback and a member of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen, was guest speaker at the Bucks County Industrial Management Club dinner last night at the Edgely Fire House.

Mr. Stuhldreher, an assistant to the president of U. S. Steel, gave an enlightening talk entitled "It Takes People."

Introduced by Joseph Wasneski, vice president of the club, the Notre Dame alumnus lauded the people of Bucks County.

He said, "This is like one large family here and we of U. S. Steel have tried to become a part of the family. We now feel we are a part of this fine community."

Drawing an analogy to his football experience, Stuhldreher said, "we all play a big part in making this the greatest country in the world. In football, as in life, it is team play that wins the game. We all know that everyone is susceptible to a pat on the back. Show respect to your fellow man by showing that the team did the job. We don't care who made the touchdown as long as we have done the job."

Talks of Coaches

The Notre Dame All-American also told of some of the coaches of yesteryear and how they taught the meaning of teamwork in building great football teams.

"Sports," he said, "teach our children to respect their fellow players and teach them how to get along with people. This is a big asset in making a success of life."

In closing the former coach told the assembled group, "you busy people are to be complimented on giving of yourselves to help one another."

The Rev. Edward Yeomans, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian Church and Club Chaplain, gave the invocation.

Charles Rittler, president of the organization, welcomed the representatives of Bristol Rotary Club, Bensalem Rotary Club, Bristol Lions Club, Bristol Exchange Club, Newtown Exchange Club, Lower Bucks Optimist

Wild Ride Frightens Township Residents

Residents of Spencer drive, Croydon Acres, got a scare last evening when a speeding car crashed into a telephone pole and skidded wildly across the street, narrowly missing a parked car.

An unidentified resident of the street chased the car and managed to get the license number, which he gave to Bristol township police.

Police traced the ownership of the car and questioned a 16-year-old boy they believe was driving the vehicle. It developed the youth had only a learner's license.

However, police made no arrest. Chief John R. Stewart reported no officers had seen the youth drive the car and said the resident who gave them the license number couldn't identify the driver.

No Damage

Chief Stewart reported there was no damage to the telephone pole and only $1 damage to the car.

However, residents report the right side of the car was smashed. One picked up a chrome strip which was knocked from the side of the car and pieces of a smashed headlight.

The residents also pointed out that several safety signs, such as "Children at Play" and "Slow," were recently installed on the drive.

Bearing Plant Appeal Made

Last month's decision by the Lower Southampton supervisors to turn down a request for a zoning change on Filmont avenue, which would have permitted the establishment of a bearing factory, has been appealed by Benjamin Dyshel, supporter of the plant.

Mr. Dyshel, who thanked the supervisors for giving the project consideration, asked that the situation be reconsidered at a later date, when the proposed Lower Southampton Industrial Park comes up for action.

Major reason for denial of the zoning change was the fact that township officials are working toward the establishment of a planned industrial program.

The bearing plant, an enterprise of William Stevenson of Holland, was to have occupied existing properties of Mr. Dyshel on the east side of Filmont avenue. It would have employed disabled veterans, solely.

Project Push Comes From Businesses

Bustleton pike, Lower Southampton, may be widened and may get sidewalks and curbs.

The push of the Feasterville Businessmen's Association for improvement and redevelopment of the pike became more evident this week when Edward Filemyr, president of the association, asked the township supervisors for an accounting of plans and progress.

In answer, Supervisor Robert Habgood reported that exact steps for improving the pike are yet to be decided.

Know Dangers

"We realize the dangers of this road and others in the township," said Mr. Habgood, "and we feel the need for sidewalks or something else. But we're just in the feeling position," he added, "and haven't decided how far we will go."

However, the supervisors indicated that sidewalks and curbing for Bustleton pike and Bristol road are definitely under consideration.

Widening

Mr. Filemyr asked if the pike would be widened. And Mr. Habgood answered by explaining that trees, porches, frontage, and many things had to be considered before any decision could be made.

"And the final decision is in our power," he added, "it's up to the state."

Mr. Filemyr asked if the curbing could be set back far enough for future widening projects.

"We'd like to see curbs back far enough to allow the laying of sewer pipes, if needed at a later date, between the road and the curbs," said the supervisor.

Supervisor Joseph Battaglia added that about nine feet of open area should be left for future utilities.

Top executives and union officials of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company plant in Bristol township last night made plans for a concerted United Fund campaign drive among the 500 plant employees, to seek 100 per cent participation.

The enthusiastic group met at the Pennsbury Inn, as guests of Ted Holmstrom, public relations man assigned here from the Three-M firm's home office in St. Paul, Minn., to assist in getting the campaign started.

Monday was set as kickoff for the solicitation drive, in which foremen and union representatives will individually ask each worker to support the Fund, which throughout Bucks County, needs $603,000 next year for the minimum requirements of its 17 health, welfare and public service agencies.

With one dollar a month the suggested contribution, through payroll deductions, 100 per cent participation would provide the United Fund with $6000. In addition, Plant Manager William T. Aitken announced that the company this year is increasing its corporate gift.

Expresses Enthusiasm

With Hobart Stecher, president of Local 149, CIO Glassworkers Union and the other union and management officials, Mr. Aitken expressed enthusiasm for the solicitation drive and confidence that it will be a success.

Today the foremen and shop stewards meet for indoctrination as solicitation teams. Visits to United Fund-supported agencies and talks at the plant on the services they render are also planned in advance of the solicitation.

The drive was brought "close to home" when John Spadaccino, labor staff representative and Mr. Stecher pointed out that United Fund agencies, the American Red Cross among them, have rendered many vital services to plant personnel.

Although donors are free to specify the agencies to receive their gifts, including those not affiliated with the United Fund, Mr. Spadaccino and Mr. Aitken, urged that

Bensalem Athletic Field Job to Start

"Construction on the new athletic field at Bensalem High school should start not later than three weeks from now," Robert K. Shafer, superintendent of Bensalem school said today.

Contracts for the construction of the field were awarded last night. Saba Construction company, Langhorne, was awarded the contract for earth moving and general preparation for the field. The price was $45,182.00.

Two Philadelphia contractors were awarded the other two contracts involved.

Anchor Post company will build the fences around the field for $7,162.00. The stands will be constructed by Luckner Manufacturing company for a price of $8,835.00.

If construction begins in three weeks, it should take about three months to complete the job, Mr. Shafer said.

The supervisors announced they will contact the Philadelphia Suburban Water company in regard to the fire-plug problem.

They also announced that the streets in Feasterville Heights will be "tied together" at a later date. Numerous improvements are expected in Feasterville Heights after foreclosure action by the Cayuga Savings and Loan company, mortgage holders of the development.

Damage Is Slight In Kitchen Fire

Burning grease splashed on a curtain in the home of Winston W. Whiteside, 57 Miller drive, Davisville, causing a kitchen fire yesterday.

Fifteen men and two engines of the Southampton Volunteer Fire Company answered the call, and extinguished the blaze in about 15 minutes.

Little damage was done, according to Donald Leedom, of the Southampton company.

Ermentrout Land Gets Grading Job

The Charles B. Ermentrout Memorial Field, being laid out on Youth Center grounds, Willow street, Southampton, will be ready for use by Spring, it was announced today by Harry Harding, Youth Center spokesman.

The field, named in honor of the man who first donated land to the center, has been completely graded, Mr. Harding said. The next step will be seeding, he explained.

Some preparations will be made in early spring, preceding dedication of the field. The late Mr. Ermentrout's land was used for construction of the Southampton Youth Center building.

Building Addition

Construction of a $10,000 addition to the building is now under study. Plans for the expansion program have been delayed temporarily, according to Mr. Harding, while Youth Center officials consider a request from the Southampton Players.

The latter organization has asked if it might join the building program in order to obtain an auditorium for its productions. The players barn at Street road and Cushman roads is up for sale. The Southampton Youth Center is the nucleus of recreation activities in Upper Southampton township.

Ike, Harry Fail To Meet

PITTSBURGH — UP — President Eisenhower and former President Truman occupied suites at the same hotel here yesterday but the political rivals easily avoided a face-to-face encounter in the lobby.

Political speaking engagements miles apart made a chance meeting between the present and former president a virtual impossibility during the 6½ hours Mr. Eisenhower was campaigning in this Democratic stronghold.

Mr. Truman checked into the 1608-room Penn-Sheraton Hotel Monday night and Tuesday morning left the city on a barnstorming tour of mill towns in the Pittsburgh area. When President Eisenhower moved into the five-room presidential suite at 5 p.m., Mr. Truman was miles out of town in neighboring Westmoreland county.

At just about the time Mr. Eisenhower completed his radio-television speech from Hunt Armory in the city Tuesday night, the man he succeeded in the White House was rising to address a Democratic rally at a night club near Monessen, some 25 miles south of Pittsburgh.

Egypt Presses For Negotiation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — UP — Egypt pressed today for a negotiated solution to the Suez dispute "consistent with Egyptian sovereignty" over the canal, but there were no signs of Egyptian or British compromise.

Full Schedule of Events Is Planned By Ski Club

A full schedule of activities in preparation for the ski season were outlined at a meeting of the Levittown Ski Club last night. President Jack Berkley presided at the meeting at the home of John Kane, 2 Goodrock road, Goldenridge, Levittown.

Possible sites for the location of the club's ski tow in the Bucks County area were announced. John Kane reported on a meeting of the Eastern Pennsylvania Ski Council, and listed fall and winter events planned for member clubs.

Plans for a square dance and several movies on skiing were announced. Ski films will be shown at the next general meeting Oct. 23 at the home of Ed Hertkorn, 50 Burning Bush lane, Birch Valley, Levittown.

The club has made reservations at Gray Rocks Ski Lodge in Canada for early in 1957 and is planning weekend trips to Vermont Ski Lodges, as well as day trips for skiing in Pennsylvania and New York.

Interested persons are welcome to attend the next general meeting.

When force failed, Miss Rodriguez offered the bear, whose name was "Hans," a handful of sugar while Racine ran for help. He returned with Robert Bellefeuille, 28, who had a .35 caliber hunting rifle. The man and woman distracted the bear while Bellefeuille took aim and shot the beast between the eyes.

Supervisors Laud Paul

John Paul, president of the Ne-shaminy and Lower Southampton school boards, today lauded the Lower Southampton supervisors for "outstanding co-operation."

Mr. Paul and the school directors requested the opening of a temporary road at the Poquessing Elementary School, and work was started "almost at once" reported the school board head.

"We asked them on Saturday and Monday morning equipment was on the scene," explained Mr. Paul, "and by that night the project was three-quarters finished."

Mr. Paul said co-operation between the two governing organizations was at a new high. "I've never seen anything like it before," he commented.

He said the Supervisors promised the Poquessing road would be completed in time for opening of the new school building, Monday.

gifts direct to the fund be strongly encouraged.

"The United Fund is your fund," Mr. Spadaccino said. "It is run for Bucks County by representatives of companies and unions. They are responsible to see that your money is used in Bucks County, and used wisely."

"You can put your confidence in a group that represents your contributions in Bucks County," said Mr. Aitken, who serves on the board of directors of the United Fund.

Mr. Holmstrom brought literature and devices of a type used successfully in other plants of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, one of the originators of the united appeal idea.

The company started it in St. Paul eight years ago, he said, after there had been constant charity campaigns in which people were asked to donate almost every week. The campaigns were combined with the slogan, "Give Once for All."

Mr. Holmstrom distributed badges the plant campaign committee will wear with the initials "GoFa" and a picture of a gopher. Attached to each placard is a nickel, representing the five cents a day each employee is asked to give.

Brochures announcing the United Fund drive and its importance are being addressed to each employee and his wife, Mr. Holmstrom said.

Attending the dinner meeting, with Mr. Holmstrom, Mr. Aitken, Mr. Stecher and Mr. Spadaccino were Sherman Davis, plant personnel manager and campaign co-chairman, who introduced the speaker; Jack Parker, union co-chairman for the campaign.

Also, R. J. Space, production superintendent; Donald Siegfried, assistant office manager; G. P. Poehert, superintendent; B. J. Lockert, plant engineer; B. J. Hopkins, foreman; A. D. Bailey, office manager; Chester Pizzula, vice president of Local 149 and Samuel Tannenbaum, George Massimini, Sidney Rigby and Earl Fabritius, of the Union wage committee.

Ike Accuses Adlai Of 'Twisting' Facts; Truman Says President 'Running Scared'

15,000 Hear Eisenhower In Pittsburgh

Charges Opponent With Political Irresponsibility

PITTSBURGH —UP— President Eisenhower charged Adlai E. Stevenson last night with political irresponsibility in implying the Republican administration cares nothing for the "little fellow."

In a major speech to an enthusiastic crowd of 15,000 at Hunt Armory, Mr. Eisenhower declared the Democratic orators have "concealed or twisted" the facts.

"Those political orators promise bigger government spending on every front—lower taxes for every citizen—all wrapped up in the bright package of a balanced budget," the President said at a GOP rally which climaxed a late afternoon and evening of ovations in the traditionally Democratic steel center.

A capacity crowd of 11,000 jammed into the armory and another 4,000 packed streets and alleys outside to hear Mr. Eisenhower's 25-minute nationwide radio-television talk over an NBC hook-up.

Thousands On Hand

Mr. Eisenhower arrived at Pittsburgh in the presidential plane, the Columbine, at 4 p.m. (EDT). Thousands lined the highway as he motored from the airport to the Penn-Sheraton Hotel, where another 5,000 were massed in a square outside. He returned to Washington immediately after the speech.

In his speech, Mr. Eisenhower departed from his prepared text when he accused Democratic orators of a "whole series of curious statements falsely implying" that his administration cares nothing for "the many they rather patronizingly call the little fellow."

"By the way," he said, "who has the right to call any American 'the little fellow'? Doesn't he?" (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

It shouldn't be long now when you may begin heaving another log.

Eisenhower like the veteran campaigner last night in Pittsburgh as he lashes out against the Democrats and accuses them of political irresponsibility.

Wonder what an election campaign would be like if everybody stopped accusing everybody else and just let good works be glorified by the record itself?

No millennium in that respect yet, but don't give up. Actually, most of the political hassles these days are tea parties in comparison to what they were a quarter of a century ago, a half century ago.

Harry Takes Campaign To W. Virginia

Former Chief Executive Talks To Monessen Demos

PITTSBURGH —UP—Former President Truman, who skirted Eisenhower supporters during a two-day stay here, took his "give 'em hell" campaign to West Virginia today.

Mr. Truman left the Greater Pittsburgh Airport this morning aboard the private plane of West Virginia Gov. William C. Marland. He is scheduled to speak today at Morgantown and this evening at Moundsville, W. Va.

The former president spoke last night to a Democratic rally at a night club near Monessen, Pa., about 25 miles from where President Eisenhower made his nationwide radio-television address at Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory.

Says Ike 'Running Scared'

Mr. Truman, who did not hear the President's address, said Mr. Eisenhower is "running scared for the Republicans."

"On the basis of what I have seen and heard in all the states I've been in, as of now we have them licked," he told the rally.

"We got the President out on the roads," he said. "When you get them yelling and on the defensive, you have them licked."

Dons Rose-Tinted Glasses

Mr. Truman, as at every stop on his campaign tour of Western Pennsylvania, urged his listeners to vote for Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson and for Democratic senatorial and congressional candidates.

3-M Maps United Fund Drive Plans

Minnesota Mining Executives, Union Officials Convene

Top executives and union officials of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company plant in Bristol township last night made plans for a concerted United Fund campaign drive among the 500 plant employees, to seek 100 per cent participation.

The enthusiastic group met at the Pennsbury Inn, as guests of Ted Holmstrom, public relations man assigned here from the Three-M firm's home office in St. Paul, Minn., to assist in getting the campaign started.

Monday was set as kickoff for the solicitation drive, in which foremen and union representatives will individually ask each worker to support the Fund, which throughout Bucks County needs $603,000 next year for the minimum requirements of its 17 health, welfare and public service agencies.

With one dollar a month the suggested contribution, through payroll deductions, 100 per cent participation would provide the United Fund with $300,000. In addition, Plant Manager William T. Aitken announced that the company this year is increasing its corporate gift.

Expresses Enthusiasm

With Hobart Stecher, president of Local 149, CIO Glassworkers Union and the other union and management officials, Mr. Aitken expressed enthusiasm for the solicitation drive and confidence that it will be a success.

Management Club Hears Ex-All-American Speak

Harry Stuhldreher, an All-American quarterback and a member of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen, was guest speaker at the Bucks County Industrial Management Club dinner last night at the Edgely Fire House.

Mr. Stuhldreher, an assistant to the president of U. S. Steel, gave an enlightening talk entitled "It Takes People."

Introduced by Joseph Wasneski, vice president of the club, the Notre Dame alumnus lauded the people of Bucks County.

He said, "This is like one large family here and we of U. S. Steel have tried to become a part of the family. We now feel we are a part of this fine community."

Drawing an analogy to his football experience, Stuhldreher said, "we all play a big part in making this the greatest country in the world. In football, as in life, it is team play that wins the game. We all know that everyone is susceptible to a pat on the back. Show respect to your fellow man by showing that the team did the job. We don't care who made the touchdown as long as we have done the job."

Talks of Coaches

The Notre Dame All-American also told of some of the coaches of yesteryear and how they taught the meaning of teamwork in building great football teams.

"Sports," he said, "teach our children to respect their fellow players and teach them how to get along with people. This is a big asset in making a success of life."

In closing the former coach told the assembled group, "you busy people are to be compli-

Wild Ride Frightens Township Residents

Residents of Spencer drive, Croydon Acres, got a scare last evening when a speeding car crashed into a telephone pole and skidded wildly across the street, narrowly missing a parked car.

An unidentified resident of the street chased the car and managed to get the license number, which he gave to Bristol township police.

Question Juvenile

Police traced the ownership of the car and questioned a 16-year-old boy they believe was driving the vehicle. It developed the youth had only a learner's license.

However, police made no arrest. Chief John R. Stewart reported no officers had seen the youth drive the car and said the resident who gave them the license number couldn't identify the driver.

No Damage

Chief Stewart reported there was no damage to the telephone pole and only $1 damage to the car.

However, residents report the right side of the car was smashed. One picked up a chrome strip which was knocked from the side of the car and pieces of a smashed headlight.

The residents also pointed out that several safety signs, such as "Children at Play" and "Slow," were recently installed on the drive.

L'town Boy Is Found

A ten-year-old will-o-the-wisp wanderer who failed to return home Monday night was found yesterday afternoon.

Harry Ryan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ryan, 31 Ravine lane, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown, said he spent Monday night "just wandering around."

He was located at 5 p.m. yesterday when he went to the home of a boyfriend, and the boy's parents notified Mr. Ryan.

Upon questioning last night, Harry explained that he walked as far as the Dairy Delight store, on Route 1, near the Langhorne Speedway, but his parents could not determine other places he had visited or get a conclusive reason why he didn't return home.

A fourth grader at St. Michael's School, Harry resumed classes this morning.

Under the pretext of joining the Cub Scouts, Harry left home at 7 o'clock Monday. When he failed to return by 1 a.m. yesterday morning, the boy's father notified the Bristol Township Police, who spread a police dragnet for the boy's return.

Friends of the lad reported seeing Harry at various places yesterday afternoon, but he continued to elude hunters until he visited the home of a boyfriend.

Auxiliary Hits Darcy Pardon

Calling the commutation of the death sentence in the Darcy case, "a gross miscarriage of justice," the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bucks County Fraternal Order of Police bitterly attacked the decision in a blistering letter to Gov. Leader today.

The letter of the women's organization implied that pressures and influence might have replaced justice in this case.

The women feel that, "Never in the history of Bucks County and Pennsylvania has there been such a gross miscarriage of justice."

"It is difficult to see the reason behind this move. Thousands of dollars were spent to prove these men were guilty without a doubt. How can you or the pardon board justify this uncalled for decision?"

Summing up their bitter feeling, the women ask the governor, "Are we beginning an era in which influence and wealth replace justice?"

"Are the law enforcing agencies to struggle for principles of justice only to have their work cancelled by one stroke of the governor's pen?"

Survey Forms Being Sent To Residents

Replies from Levittown residents are running heavy on the fluoridation survey being conducted by Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority, according to Charles Lucisano, chairman of the group.

He said that a "good majority" of residents are returning the questionnaire on the fluoridation of water with their bills. But he said the answers have not yet been tabulated.

He explained that he has no idea whether the answers to survey favor the fluoridation or not. "We don't want to influence the opinion of any residents who have not voted yet on this issue," Lucisano said. He explained that the survey is not half through yet.

He estimated that results of the survey would not be known until sometime near the first of the year. The authority started mailing out questionnaires with the latest quarterly water bill, on Sept. 1. Because of the cycle billing method, used by the authority, it will take three months before all the questionnaires are mailed out, Lucisano said.

This would take the program up to the end of November. Lucisano said an extra month would have to be allowed to give the residents a chance to return the survey.

14,000 Questionnaires

He added that the authority, which supplies Levittown homes with water and sewage service, will mail out a total of 14,000 questionnaires.

The authority members initiated the move to have the survey taken last summer after considerable research. If the residents are in favor of the move, officials estimate it would take only a short time to start putting fluorides in the water.

Brink's Gang Gets Life

BOSTON —UP— Eight Brink's bandits began serving life sentences today and locked up with them was the secret of what happened to more than a million dollars.

The life terms were imposed yesterday by Superior Judge Felix Forte after the state recommended the maximum penalty for the $1,218,211 robbery at Brink's Inc. on Jan. 17, 1950.

The stiff sentences ended a long chapter in crime for the Hallovood-masqued gang convicted early Saturday by a Suffolk County jury. Sentenced were Joseph F. McGinnis, 53, gang mastermind; Adolph (Jazz) Maffie, 45; Anthony Pino, 49; Vincent J. Costa, 42; Michael V. Geagan, 48; Henry Baker, 50; Thomas F. Richardson, 49; and James I. Faherty, 45; all of greater Boston.

Only $68,000 has been recovered by investigators. The FBI found the money rotting in a beer cooler during a surprise raid last June on a Boston contracting office.

Brennan Vote Drive In Falls Head Named

Paul Terrels, 69 Vicar lane, Levittown, today announced that he is serving as campaign manager in Falls Township for State Representative A. Patrick Brennan (D, Bucks) in Brennan's bid for re-election.

Terrels, who is registration chairman for the Falls Township Democratic club, issued a statement praising the social legislation Brennan has sponsored during his present term in Harrisburg.

"For the first time in its history," Terrels said, "Pennsylvania has a Fair Employment Practices law and the bill which enacted this law was co-sponsored by Brennan."

"In addition," Terrels said, "Brennan introduced a bill setting up a committee to consider the employment problems of older people in the state, people who so often find themselves unemployed simply because of their age."

"Brennan has shown us during the past two years that he has the welfare of the people of this district at heart," Terrels said. "I am happy to be associated with his campaign and I will do my best to insure his re-election."

word American still mean we are all equal?

"I wonder just what kind of political children they think the American people are. I also wonder what kind of man they think I am."

Hits Opposition Proposals

Mr. Eisenhower said Stevenson and his Democratic running mate, Estes Kefauver, are making a "record of clattering campaign oratory" and cited as examples the issues of "big business" versus "small business," the draft, H-bomb tests, national defense and peace.

"They say your government is indifferent to labor," he said. "They say your government is negligent in social security—indifferent to the unemployed."

"This amounts to saying that your government has no interest in the people of America. This amounts to the charge that your government has betrayed your trust. Such talk is political irresponsibility at its worst."

Replying to Stevenson's statement that the draft might be halted in the foreseeable future and that the United States should take the lead in halting H-bomb tests, the President said he was speaking "with the greatest seriousness."

"I, as your President and commander in chief of the armed forces, cannot and will not make proposals contrary to national interest—nor offer you attractive prospects unjustified by world realities," Mr. Eisenhower said. "I will not promise that winning a peace based on justice will be cheap and easy."

To the delight of his audience, the former president put on a pair of glasses with rose-tinted lenses. He then took off the glasses and reached in his pocket for another frame which he put on.

275th Committes Push Event Plans

With three days remaining before the start of Bristol's 275th Anniversary celebration, committee members are working full-speed on the remaining steps to assure a memorable week of festive activities. Enthusiasm is continuing to mount for the celebration, both from Bristolians who will take part in the events and from outsiders who will come to the borough.

For the giant auction in the Kaiser Canberra plant, one of two opening day events set for Saturday, Boy Scouts have posted signs throughout the area. The placards also direct public attention to the unprecedented Open House visit to ten historic Bristol mansions, scheduled for the same day.

The auction, under the direction of Stephen P. Midouhas, will start at 10 a.m., with an antique auction at 5 p.m. under the direction of Dr. Walter Fortnum. The houses will be open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m.

The celebration will turn to a religious key Sunday, when sermons at local worship services will feature the history of Bristol churches. In a community service in the Warren Snyder elementary school auditorium at 8 p.m. the church histories will be depicted in pageant form.

Colonial Costumes

Bristol Borough Council will don Colonial costumes, including wigs, for a special session Monday night. The councilmen also will dress colonial style for the two-mile-long parade to wind up the celebration Saturday.

Also Monday night, pupils of the Snyder school will present a pageant. The children will continue their celebration with other activities Tuesday, and present dances Wednesday to Saturday at the Mill Street Fair.

A highlight of the celebration will occur Thursday, with a Colonial Ball and Banquet in the Snyder school auditorium, with Gov. George M. Leader coming as guest speaker.

Tech School Head To Talk

"Technical Education for Youth and Adults of Lower Bucks County," will be the topic discussed by George M. Schaffer, principal of the Bucks County Technical school tomorrow evening at Delhaas High School.

Mr. Schaffer will speak at the first regular meeting of the 1956-57 season of the Delhaas High School Parent-Teacher association, which will convene at 8 p.m. A graduate of Bethlehem (Pa.) High School, Mr. Schaffer received his Bachelor of Science Degree and Master of Education Degree at Pennsylvania State University and served as lecturer on the Teacher Education Staff at the University of Pennsylvania.

An opportunity for audience participation will be provided following Mr. Schaffer's talk, which will include results of preliminary studies, surveys, costs, etc., and future operation of the Bucks County Technical School.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria at the close of the meeting. Mrs. E. Bley, Edgely, is chairman of the refreshments committee.

President Loses Topcoat

PITTSBURGH—UP — President Eisenhower, who threw his hat into the political ring again early this year, added his topcoat Tuesday night.

In his haste to get to Greater Pittsburgh Airport after delivering a nationally televised and broadcast campaign address, Mr. Eisenhower left his tan topcoat behind at Hunt Armory.

The oversight was discovered by local police who contacted secret service agents at the airport. The topcoat was bundled into a squad car which, with siren wailing, set off at high speed for the air terminal 20 miles distant.

But the President's plane had departed, so the coat was shipped to Washington aboard another airliner.

Bensalem Athletic Field Job To Start

"Construction on the new athletic field at Bensalem High school should start not later than three weeks from now," Robert K. Shafer, superintendent of Bensalem school said today.

Contracts for the construction of the field were awarded last night. Saba Construction company, Langhorne, was awarded the contract for earth moving and general preparation for the field. The price was $45,182.00.

Two Philadelphia contractors were awarded the other two contracts involved.

Anchor Post company will build the fences around the field for $7,162.00. The stands will be constructed by Luckner Manufacturing company for a price of $8,835.00.

If construction begins in three weeks, it should take about three months to complete the job, Mr. Shafer said.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

The Levittown teacher who assigned her pupils to find where Bucks County got its name has the class parents begging for help. Several mothers called us yesterday. The answer: Bucks is short for Buckinghamshire, the Penn homestead in England.

For the newcomer, Levitt and Sons, Inc., is the nation's number one home building organization. They began by building 35 houses a year during the early days of the depression. During the GI housing demand in 1946-47 they increased production to a rate of 35 houses a day.

A reminder to all Levittown families. The Levittown Civic association's membership drive is now underway. The dues are $1 per year, per family. About 1000 new membership applications were mailed out and thus far only 250 have been returned. When the first Levittown homes were occupied, LCA members made personal calls to all new families. However, now it is impossible to do that due to the rapid influx of people, so all the information about the organization is included in the letter with membership applications.

He who laughs last, laughs best. The other day in a quip about Mrs. Mimi Brown, it was noted that her address in the Federated Women's Club of Levittown Directory was listed as "Silver Birch" lane instead of Silver Birch lane. But alas, in the article her name was spelled "Mimmie" instead of Mimi.

Council Informed On Suit Deadline

Philip E. Jones, Morrisville attorney, addressed a letter to the Borough Council last night, informing them of a six months notice of a possible suit pending regarding Henry Dameron, who was killed in a sewer accident in the Borough May 17, 1956.

Borough Solicitor David Clarke said the suit has not started yet, but the suit must, under the statutes of limitations, be started before May 17, 1957.

The accident occurred on East Palmer avenue and East Franklin street.

Bath Street School Lease Negotiated

A month-to-month lease to set up a workshop for the handicapped in the abandoned Bath Street School building was negotiated last night by a special committee of the borough school board.

In co-operation with the Bucks County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, Handicapped Industries will move into the building Dec. 1, after providing $650 worth of repairs at their expense.

Full Schedule of Events Is Planned By Ski Club

A full schedule of activities in preparation for the ski season were outlined at a meeting of the Levittown Ski Club last night. President Jack Berkley presided at the meeting at the home of John Kane, 2 Goodrock road, Goldenridge, Levittown.

Possible sites for the location of the club's ski tow in the Bucks County area were announced. John Kane reported on a meeting of the Eastern Pennsylvania Ski Council, and listed fall and winter events planned for member clubs.

Council Rules Repair Jobs Must Be Done

Morrisville residents, whose sidewalks are in need of repair, will be given 30 days notice to complete the work or the borough will step in and do the work and assess the residents the cost of the work.

That was the ruling of the Morrisville Borough council last night after a motion by James Magee, chairman of the streets and lights committee was seconded and passed to that effect.

Mr. Magee said a survey had been taken and there are about 25 or 30 such situations in the borough, caused by trees pushing up the sidewalks.

Borough Solicitor David Clarke, was asked to amend the sidewalk ordinance to allow a bituminous coal patch to be used in repairing the sidewalks. Mr. Magee said the "coal patch" would be more economical than concrete.

"Coal Patch" Practical

Mr. Magee stipulated that only that part of the sidewalk that is actually in need of repair should be replaced, therefore, he said, making the "coal patch" practical. The Councilman said that if for any reason a tree is removed from the repaired sidewalk area, the "patch" must be taken up and the concrete replaced.

The borough secretary was asked to contact the Philadelphia Electric company and ask them to make a survey of the borough's street light condition. Mr. Magee said that the survey would be at the cost of the Borough, but he said that there was no way of telling the cost until the survey is completed.

To Sell Scales

In other action, the Ordinance committee, headed by Chairman Edward J. Mannix, passed a resolution to sell the old Fairbanks scales belonging to the borough for their $100 value. The borough secretary was instructed to sell the scales and turn the money over to the borough.

A resolution was rescinded terminating daylight saving time in the borough. It was resolved that Borough clocks would be set back one hour to Eastern Standard Time at 2 a.m., Oct. 28. The resolution rescinded a previous resolution passed April 10.

Councilman Neal Nolan, chairman of the public properties committee, reported that the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission-owned land on Wood street and on Washington street was still not a "desirable spot" for a playground.

Mr. Nolan reported that the commission, at a recent meeting, declined a council request to lease the Washington street parcel because of the close proximity to the Administration building, but that the Commission was still willing to lease the Wood street property to the borough for $1 for one year, to be used for a playground.

The Public Properties chairman said that his committee felt the parcel was not a "desirable spot" for a playground.

John V. Sawyer made a motion to request the commission to lease the Wood street property for $1 for one year with no stipulations as to its use by the Borough, defending his stand by saying that he understands that the land may be sold and the Borough might find "something less desirable than a playground" in the residential section.

The motion was passed 5-3 over Mr. Nolan's protests.

L'town A and P Fire Extinguished

Falls Township Fire Company No. 1 was summoned at 2:30 a.m. today to extinguish a small trash fire in the new A & P Store, Newportville road, Levittown.

Falls Township Police discovered the fire. It broke out in a room constructed of concrete and steel.

Twenty-five men and two pieces of apparatus responded to the call. In other action yesterday, the Falls Company extinguished a small field fire on a Danherst Corp. lot on Queen Anne road, Fairless Hills.

Ted Holmstrom, publicity director from the St. Paul home office of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, pins Jack Parker, union co-chairman of the Bucks County United Fund drive in the Bristol Three-M plant, with the badge to be used in the plant solicitation drive next week. It contains a nickel, symbolizing the five cents a day each employee is asked to contribute. Participating in the pre-campaign meeting (from left) are John Spadacino, labor staff representative of the United Fund; Hobart Stecher, president of Local 149, CIO Glassworkers Union; Mr. Holmstrom; Sidney Rigby, of the Union wage committee; Mr. Parker; Sherman Davis, plant personnel director; Donald Siegfried, assistant office manager and William A. Aitken, plant manager.

Borough Treasurer Named At Meeting

Thomas Groom, 203 Washington street, Morrisville, was appointed last night to the post of Borough Treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Warren E. Long, who resigned to take a position with the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge commission.

Mr. Groom, nominated by Councilman John V. Sawyer, was appointed over Robert C. Beadle, former Borough Treasurer, who was nominated by Councilman Neal Nolan.

Magee Speaks

Speaking in Mr. Groom's behalf, Councilman James Magee said, "We need young blood and new faces here on Council."

Councilman William P. Schriber pointed out that Groom is employed as a sales clerk in Trenton and has never done accounting professionally, and that through his private investigation, found that Groom had handled, "invoices, statements, and their like," only.

Mr. Sawyer then asked the resigning treasurer if he thought that Mr. Groom could do the job. Mr. Long answered, "I have talked to the man, told him the work involved, showed him examples of the work, and I feel he can do the job."

By 5-3 Vote

Mr. Groom was appointed by a vote of 5-3. His term expires January, 1958. The office calls for a full two-year term.

Council President Nicholas T. Mislán, regretfully accepted Mr. Long's resignation and praised him for past fine performance. The Council agreed that the treasurer had fulfilled his office well.

2 Disagree On Motion

Morrisville Borough Councilman John V. Sawyer and Councilman Neal Nolan hammered away at each other last night when Sawyer made a motion to rescind an ordinance requiring that all new Borough employees names be submitted to the council before they are hired or fired.

Mr. Sawyer's motion was passed and he made a second motion that the chairman of any committee along with the approval of the council president, could hire or fire any employee except those on the Police force, who are civil service appointees.

Mr. Nolan, addressing the Council said, "You'll never get another Democrat in here (on Council) as long as I'm here!" His term expires in three more years.

Addressing Mr. Sawyer, Nolan said, "You're taking everybody out and you'll get slapped right in the nose yourself, some day."

Mr. Nolan argued that the motion would put too much power in the chairman's post, but Council President Nicholas T. Mislán said, "You're supposed to get together with your committee and work things out together."

The motion was passed 5-3 with one abstaining.

Trainer Is Killed, Fiancee Aid Fails

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. — UP — An animal trainer was clawed to death by a 500-pound bear last night while his fiancee and a friend tried to lure the animal away.

Paul Lemery, 28, entered the European bear's cage for a training session. His fiancee, Shirley Rodriguez, 23, said she was getting a muzzle for the bear when she heard Lemery shriek.

Miss Rodriguez and Roland Racine, an employee, dashed into the cage and tried to beat the huge bear away from its victim with a pike pole and a broom.

When force failed, Miss Rodriguez offered the bear, whose name was "Hans," a handful of sugar while Racine ran for help. He returned with Robert Bellefeuille, 28, who had a .35 caliber hunting rifle.

stewards meet for indoctrination as solicitation teams. Visits to United Fund-supported agencies and talks at the plant on the services they render are also planned in advance of the solicitation.

The drive was brought "close to home" when John Spadacino, labor staff representative and Mr. Stecher pointed out that United Fund agencies, the American Red Cross among them, have rendered many vital services to plant personnel.

Although donors are free to specify the agencies to receive their gifts, including those not affiliated with the United Fund, Mr. Spadacino and Mr. Aitken, urged that gifts direct to the fund be strongly encouraged.

"The United Fund is your fund," Mr. Spadacino said. "It is run for Bucks County by representatives of companies and unions. They are responsible to see that your money is used in Bucks County, and used wisely."

"You can put your confidence in a group that represents your contributions in Bucks County," said Mr. Aitken, who serves on the board of directors of the United Fund.

Mr. Holmstrom brought literature and devices of a type used successfully in other plants of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, one of the originators of the united appeal idea.

The company started it in St. Paul eight years ago, he said, after there had been constant charity campaigns in which people were asked to donate almost every week. The campaigns were combined with the slogan, "Give Once for All."

Mr. Holmstrom distributed badges the plant campaign committee will wear with the initials "GoFa" and a picture of a gopher. Attached to each placard is a nickel, representing the five cents a day each employee is asked to give.

Brochures announcing the United Fund drive and its importance are being addressed to each employee and his wife, Mr. Holmstrom said.

Attending the dinner meeting, with Mr. Holmstrom, Mr. Aitken, Mr. Stecher and Mr. Spadacino were Sherman Davis, plant personnel manager and campaign co-chairman, who introduced the speaker; Jack Parker, union co-chairman for the campaign.

Also, R. J. Space, production superintendent; Donald Siegfried, assistant office manager; G. P. Poehert, superintendent; M. B. Lockert, plant engineer; B. J. Hopkins, foreman; A. D. Bailey, office manager; Chester Pizzula, vice president of Local 149 and Samuel Tannenbaum, George Massimini, Sidney Rigby and Earl Fabritius, of the Union wage committee.

VIOLETWOOD VIEWS

56 Valley Road
By Evelyn Litten
WI 6-4193

Hi neighbors! It's October and that means pumpkin pie and Halloween. Get your goodies ready for the little goblins who will be knocking on your doors shortly.

Maureen Brandt, 131 Violetwood drive, will be a big 3 years old on Oct. 9. Papa Henry Brandt added on another year on Aug. 1 and we're glad to hear you recovered from your recent illness. Mommy Gladys chalked up another year on July 23. Gladys' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Marsden, celebrated 70 years young on Sept. 6.

Debbie Shearer, 49 Valley road, celebrated her third birthday on Oct. 7.

Jackie Krupa, 27 Valley road, was four years old on Oct. 6 and brother George was six years old on Oct. 1. George is taking the following boys to a treat to the movies, Walter Gildea, Greg and Mark Gohen, Joey Shearer, Jay De Palo, Bradley Albert. At Jackie's party will be Patty Rossi, Dorey and Debbie Shearer, Maureen Brandt, Reed Smith, Barbara Small, Gary De Palo, Suzanne and Betty Gildea, Nancy Gohen and Joyce Swartzman.

Happy birthday to my mother who celebrates her natal day on Oct. 8.

Sorry to hear Dorothy Gale, 24 Vulcan road had an auto mishap. Hope it was nothing serious.

I've heard the recent barn dance the Men's Club staged was a huge success and everyone had a big hoe-down time.

For a change, the shrubbery is up high again and you can't see when you're coming out of the entrance. How about dropping a post card to the commissioner and maybe we'll get action.

That's all for now -- Call me.
